you already have enough, you already know enough, you already experienced enough that ONE more out of Multiple claims isn't going to make a difference. And, as far as Im aware, doc and mgmt and faire is well aware of everything they need to make whatever decisions they need to make, and they've made their decisions.

And I am now concern about the allegation just being one more in a long string... and that if Doc forces him back in faire, that it will happen again
